

EVENTS TO FOSTER IDEAS

These ten years of reflection have been a time of insightful exchanges among economic, political and scientific actors from both shores of the Mediterranean.

Whether in small work groups or in great forums, all the events organised by IPEMED serve the same purpose: intermingling ideas, sharing expertise and exchanging visions in order to establish shared diagnoses and offer relevant and adapted recommendations.

→ GREAT FORUMS

The great forums (Entretiens de la Méditerranée, EMCC Forum, Annual Forums) gather, for one or two days, the key actors of the Mediterranean along with IPEMED's experts and ideas. These events enable to promote the Institute's productions, raise awareness in Mediterranean public authorities and drive the Mediterranean of tomorrow. They generally address issues at the heart of regional integration, such as coproduction or the Euro-Mediterranean convergence.

→ SEMINARS OF THE MEDITERRANEAN WORLD

The Seminars of the Mediterranean World (SMM) were a very efficient tool to build a collective expertise. In these small high-level seminars, around forty selected participants exchanged for two days on an essential Mediterranean issue (water, food safety, energy and development). Contributors and participants mingled, shared ideas and made practical recommendations collected in an appeal.

→ SEMINARS AND SYMPOSIUMS

The seminars and symposiums are an opportunity to address sectorial issues, open the debate, deepen reflection and suggest new fields of studies. They are times for exchange fostering the construction of a common reflection.

→ MEDITERRANEAN BREAKFAST

For ten years already, the Mediterranean Breakfast Meetings have been regularly fuelling the debate. They always follow the same organisation: introduction by IPEMED's President, one Northern actor, one Southern actor and a publication by the Institute. IPEMED encourages lively and free exchanges, generally in relation with the region's economic and political situation.

→ ANNUAL MEETING OF THE POLITICAL STEERING COMMITTEE

The annual meeting of the Political Steering Committee, along with the gala dinner, is one of the highlights of the Institute's institutional life. It is the opportunity to appeal to political decision makers of both shores of the Mediterranean regarding the need to implement proactive policies in favour of regional integration.
